THE SEMINOLE WAR, AGAIN.

. Cem- Jures, it reserve is likely to lose his character and good sepute with the Governpose the folly and wickedness of the adminia things, and no party our withstand the odium of tration, by admitting the ERROR OF THE WAR, and littelding upon the Daneber his advice beyond any peradventure." that it be terminated by allowing the Indians to tenalo in Plorida.

The Secretary of War, (Mr. Point tt) liam replied to the General's letter, in which he gives him to understand in no very ambiguone Ler -, that his advice is not required; and is entirely superfluous. By the letter of Mr. | we endured. 4 oints it speeds to be the determination of the Government to persevere in the prosecution of the war, until the indians are either "MESTROTED OR CAPTURED." The Indians have belought our Government to allow them to reain upon the everylades and morasses of their insector, that they amy die and be burled in thousand of their fathers, they have given up the contest, and withdrawn their forces from the field, that the General of our army may communicate their prayer to the Government The General forwards their polition, accompanied by an expression of hope that it may be, and advice that it should be granted. The Govcomment replies, "away with your advice, and attend to your dulles us a soldier. you are sent to Florida to chastise the Indians." "Capture or dealroy!"

REACTIONS.

The tory papers are, as usual, at this season well supplied with accounts of what they deceptively denominate "Democratic re-actions." It is well known to be a fact, that in a very large majority of the country towns, the muni- THE COUNTRY. cipal offices have been filled by the people, withaut the all Last reference to the political character of the candidates. And we believe it to the fact, susceptible of proof, that not a town election has taken place in the State this Spring, the which an exclusive political bearing has been given, where the result will not shew an accessien to the ranks of the friends of the present Biate administration.

The Argus and Age hear of some small town e- plantation, in which tory officers are reported to have been elected, and where the people never once dreamed of voting, for or against a soudidate for Selectman or Clerk, begause ite was oppered to or in fuver of the administration , and forthwith, these tory prints, followed by the whole pack of yelping loco locos, trumpet forth the feet, in phone grandiloquent, under the caption, in stering capitals, of "DENOCRATIC REACregies." What vile, contemptible tricks will be resorted to, by desperate men, to sustain a desheiste gance ;

It is and subteally true, that the municipal elections of many, and perhaps, most of the larger to-ne in the State, are made to turn upon gelitical preferences. We have not yet heard of an election in such a town, in which the Whige have not added to their relative strength. since ber September.

Passed to be engrossed Bill to suppress the male of wideut spirit, (as muended) resolve for the pro-ecution of the Geological survey, Passed to be enacted. Bill to change the names of certain persons additional to incorporate the Benobscot Boom Company for the preservation of fish in the Penobscot-waters.

, IN HOUSE. Bill to supress the sale of ardent spirits &c. for common use, was taken up, amended so as to prohibit only ardent spirits and wines, and inesed in be reengmesed. Referred to the next Legislature, petition of Osgood Pingree et als; also all the petitions for he abolition of the Court of Common Pleas.

Mr. Hamiin called up the bill to incorporate the county of Piscotaquis. The Senate had umended so as to his upon Dover as the shire town. Ar Webster hoped the House would atlow the people to fix the shire town for them-Mr Hamlin replied; he said the Rep. like so many Jonases, or else leap into the was selves. resentatives from that section are sit in favor of fixing upon Dover, except one. Mesers Brad. bury. Norton and Codman opposed the amendcated it. Mr Hamilin accused Mr Bradbury of officiousness in interlering. Mr Webster thought the gentleman from Hampden somewhat officlous, as he did not reside in the new County. Mr Bradbury said in the first place, he was elected a Representative here, and supposed he had a right to speak; in the next place, he was Chairman of the comittee which reported the bill, and left called upon to take a part in the discussion. He would cast no reflections upon the gentleman from Hampden; he would leave it to the House while we deplore the continued sufferings of the to say which had occupied the most time during country under his mad and prefligate administ the session. After some further discussion, the House agreed to the amendments of the Senate. Report and resolve on amendment of the Constitution, relative to bail, were again reported with an additional statement of facts. Mr Norton moved to lay on the table. Mr Hamlin was The Paries in the Lincoln Congressional Dis- in favor of the amendmend, and contended that a majority of the inhabitants voting having voted for the amendment, the Constitution is already amended. Mr Norton said the resolve unde which the votes were thrown was not in accordance with the constitution; it required a majorily of all the legal voters; the question was not submitted constitutionally. Mr Hamlin said the constitution qualified the resolve, and not the resolve the constitution. He contended that the resolve taken as a whole, is not inconsistent with the constitution. The discussion was continued by Messra ingatts and Chaplin, against the resolves, and blesses. Deleadernier, Hamilin and S. Fowler, in favor. Mr H. read from the resolve showing that it required only a impority of the voters returned. Mr Fowler said that if a part of the people waived their right to vote, it was no concern of ours. The additional report was accepted, 64 to 44. The original report was accopted, and a centre declaring that the amendthent has become a part of the Constitution, was read. On motion of Mr Codman, the year and naks were ordered. Mr Codman said he should vote against the resolve; he believed it to be amending the Constitution by a vote of the two branching of the begingsture. Land on the table and 3 o'clock P. M. assigned. tromsonian Medical-So Bill to facorporate T ciety was read a 3d time. Air Parris moved in-

Mr II. W. Paine apposed the motion; and advocated the passage of the bill. He said the object of the petitioners is to exclude ignorant practitioners who practice upon this system, and by that means to increase the respectability of the practitioners; and also to obtain the privilege of collecting their does, which is guaranteed to all other persons of every occupation, Mr. P. asked what reason under Heaven there could be why this should not be peraktied. Mr Paine said he always found it difficult to keep his countenance when he looked at the gentleman from Buckfield.

Mr Parrie said he was glad anything could make that gentleman smile. Mr. P. said he knew but little about this system of practice, but what he slid know was not in its favor. He went on to argue against the bill, and related some anecdoles of ignorant steam doctors. Mr Buies related some occurrences to show that the Thomsonian system is beneficial. He said he only wished the legislature to grant these piacticioners equal rights with other persons; and then every one may do as he pleases about employing them. Mr Kimbell opposed the bill and related sev eral instances of mal-practice by steam doctors, contending that to pass the bill would be to eanotion the most outrageous system of quack ery and imposition known at the present day Mr True spoke at some length in favor of the bill, contending for equal rights and against exclusive privileges. Ms Prescott opposed the The question was decided by year and nays as follows Year 59, Navs 70 Bill additional regulating divorces was taker up and amended on motion of Mr., Underwood-It provides that divorces may be decreed when either of the parties has been intemperate for three years. Mr. Delesdernier said it would be an inducement to men who have wives they do not like to become drunkards. Mr. Codman said such a man must be a heartlest wretch whom it is not worth while to legislate for. Mr C went on to advocate the bill as tending to effect a good object, without compulsion. He Aid it Louis his productive of peace in prirate families, and harmony in communities, and do much le suppress the evil of intemperance. He stated that the bill had pessed the Senate unanimonally.

Mr. Hamilin also adversted the bill. Indefinite postpensent was soved and negatived, 3 to 100, Bill passed to be anger date whole House emagiti favor of it.
